3. Founder Story (90–120 Seconds)

Every journey begins with a simple idea.

For me, it all started with curiosity and a desire to create something beautiful with my own hands. I discovered the art of macramé and was amazed by how a simple thread could be transformed into elegant, meaningful creations.

At first, it was just a hobby—a creative escape that brought joy after a busy day. With every new design, I learned new techniques, experimented with different patterns, and realized that handmade creations have something machines can never replicate: a personal touch.

Soon, friends and family began asking for custom-made gifts. Watching their happiness when they received something handcrafted inspired me to turn my passion into a small business.

Today, every keychain, bracelet, wall hanging, and decorative item is carefully handcrafted with patience, creativity, and attention to detail. Each piece carries a little part of my journey and is made with the hope of becoming part of someone else's special memory.

This business isn't just about selling handmade products—it's about celebrating creativity, supporting craftsmanship, and helping people express love through thoughtful, meaningful gifts.

Thank you for believing in handmade art and supporting a dream built one knot at a time.

Together, let's make every gift more personal, every space more beautiful, and every memory a little more meaningful.
